“ One of my fondest memories is the welcome home party when I returned from my last tour in Vietnam. You made my new bride welcome, thanks

“ I have so many wonderful memories with you that it would be hard to list them all. The stuffed koala bear you bought me on one of your trips to Australia, fine scotch on the rocks while watching M.A.S.H. (obviously the scotch was for you), Edy's ice cream, tractor rides on your dream property in Grass Valley, and those strawberry candies that come in holiday cheese and sausage boxes. Still to this day I associate Hickory Farms gift boxes with the best Christmases of my life. You gave my sister and I an amazing childhood, I'm so very grateful for that.

You also taught me a lot about being a man, the good and the bad. From you I've learned how important it is to be the best employee on the job, and have travelled the world as a result. Like you, I have seen many places and cultures, and have friends all across the globe, including Australia.

By your life I also learned the immeasurable importance of being a good husband and father, that the entire structure of a family often hinges on actions of its patriarch. Though you never got to meet your great-grandson, I'm so glad you got to see pictures, and know that your legacy continues. He has some of your personality traits, traits that will serve him well.

Rest in peace, Grandpa. Till the Lord brings us together again. I love you so much.

“ Grandpa, I just heard of your passing. I am flooded with memories and emotions of our time together.. One of my favorite memories is catching trout with you at the break of dawn. We woke up before the sun and made the trek down the hill, caught the fish, then made the trek back up the hill. You made the best trout breakfast in the camper on your land in Grassvalley before you built your house. I felt happy when people told me that I look like you; blue green eyes and rosy cheeks. I have so many wonderful memories: Sitting on your lap watching Wild Wild America, Christmas in CA with Parkas and Tinsel, fine food and rustic BBQ. You taught me that a woman is just as good as a man. I loved seeing your slide shows of places you visited. You inspired me to travel the world and embrace different cultures. I love you Grandpa Knepper.. You are forever in my heart and soul.
