“ This was my dad, i met him a couple times when i was 26 then we lost contact with eachother. Both weren't interested or willing to force a relationship i guess. I grew up my whole life with people that knew him and would shake my hand and hug me out of respect for him but i still didnt understand. He got to meet my wife daughter and baby son, since then i had 1 more son and 2 more daughters he didnt get to meet. I figured id get word when he passed but wasnt till now, 5 years later i found out...anyhow rest in peace
