“ Called to talk to Ed this afternoon. Got his daughter instead. She told me the bad news. It was a shock. I met Ed and Eve about 5 years ago when they called me for computer help. Ed and I immediately hit it off, talking about our military service, cars, etc. He was the one that convinced me to get into the VA as I didn't think I had any benefits from serving. That literally saved my life a couple years later when I got cancer Can you say gratitude?
I was horrified the day I read in the paper about the accident. The first draft made it sound like Ed had passed, but was recanted later and then I found out it was Eve. Took us a while to reconnect after that since he was in the hospital for quit a while.
I called him a couple of months ago and we met at his house.. I brought over lunch from my corner cafe. Ya never know it when it'll be the last time you see someone. I am so glad we were able to do that. Ed was just a great guy and I will miss him. Eve was a wonderful gal, and I have missed her as well.
Rest in Peace, my friends!
Peace to his family and friends..

“ I will miss Ed. I knew him all the way through our high school years. He had this unique infectious laugh and it seemed he had a humorous take on everything, but our talks showed me that he had a serious side. He helped me put my Chevy back together, often! Ed would stop off at my place after dates and our group aka The Bummers would discuss our girlfriend issues and get bad advice on how to fix them. A great guy and good friend.

So sorry to hear of Ed's passing. Ed and I were classmates from Starr King Elementary School through Jordan High School. Ed's father had a used car lot in Compton, CA. Harry L. Mabe Used Cars. In elementary school my parents bought a car from him. I ended up using that car for three years of college. In my second year of college the muffler fell off. Ed who was attending Northrop Institute of Technology at the time helped me put a new muffler on it. He was kind to everybody. Cheerful in all weathers. He was a natural for learning anything. The ultimate "quick study." Very kind to animals and a very decent person. He was injured terribly in the accident that took his beloved Eve. My sincere condolences to Ed's family and friends. The world is a slightly lesser place without him.
