“ Our thoughts are with you Cindy, and the family. Rest in Peace cousin Greg- Laura (Ivie) and Bill Pappin.

Laura Ivie - August 01, 2015 at 09:57 PM

“ When I was talking to Auntie Anne, she said that when Greg was born, her mother, Greg's grandmother, was sick in the hospital but they put baby Greg on her stomach so she could see him, the first born. She died not long after he was born. Greg was the only grandchild she met.

Cindy Ahern - July 27, 2015 at 04:14 PM

“ I was talking with Uncle Ivan and he said that Greg's middle name, Allen, came from Alex's father, Uncle Yasha whose middle name was Allen because Greg was born on Yasha's birthday, May 2nd.

“ Here's an excerpt from an email I got from Greg's violin teacher, Brenda Bellizzi:

"I really missed teaching Greg yesterday. He loved playing music from the 50s,60s and 70s. We went online sometimes and listened to his favorite bands and then played simple versions. he loved talking about his childhood and the Russian meals you all had together. He even showed me the family church cook book. I used recipe in book to make him perovskites this past Xmas. I'll never forget how he devoured them after telling me they didn't taste like his mom's. I guess nothing is good as our mom's use to make."

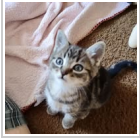

Thanks, Brenda!

“ Greg was a special friend and my memories of him are wonderful. He was happy, sweet, patient, kind and funny. He had childlike qualities and then at other times he displayed his wisdom to me. Such a lovely soul and I will miss him dearly.
