“ I worked with Leo at Waikoloa in 1990 in building a 7 acre lake in a lava field (Leo representing the Owner; I the contractor). Mutual respect was the guiding principle which made it a wonderful experience. I regret losing contact after the job & moving back to Alaska. A brilliant & articulate gentleman was Leo - the world is less for his passing.

“ I remember his family had a star in the window when he was in the military during world war 2.
