“ Buddy-

Not a moment goes by now that I don't think about you. Times before I didn't realize how much you mean to me. I would love to call and hear your voice and that crazy laugh of yours. Saturday night we had a great time together. Which in a way I felt was meant to be. You gave me the weirdest t-shirts that night (so like you) and I told you how cool it is your living with the kids and working so hard on everything. Before you went to bed I gave you a hug and made you dance in a circle to the song "Clockwork" by Easton Corbin. I love you so much and can't wait to see you again. Tonight is for you. Listening to Steve Miller Band and when "The Joker" comes on I will be singing for you. Love you Budman always and forever.

“ Buddy, when I was a scrawny little 6th grader you and your brother had faith in me and asked me to join the school wrestling team. I did not even have shoes for it and you provided them for me. I did not have many friends and you became mine and gave me some. in high school you always looked out for me. We spent many years laughing and being great friends. playing football and running around the country side. My friend I will miss you. You were a kind soul and good person. It was a blessing for me just to have known you.
